After I identify my errors, I look at my errors compared to the correct answers and reasoning, and categorize the type of error I have. This shows that I can break down where my error is and why I made the error. Based on that type of error, I then can choose a specific action step to make sure that I don't make the same mistake again. This process showcases that I can look at given information to access where I am and then use that info. to make an informed decision about my best next action steps.
